

U.S. ARMY

OPERATION
READY
Resources for Educating About Deployment and You

GETTING PREPARED, STAYING PREPARED

FRG's Role in Unit Casualty

U.S. ARMY

OPERATION
READY
Resources for Educating About Deployment and You

GETTING PREPARED, STAYING PREPARED

Objectives of FRG's Role When Casualty

- To review types of casualties
- To review Army response to casualties
- To identify what is and what is not the FRG's role when unit casualty occurs
- To discuss how FRG can prepare

U.S. ARMY

GETTING PREPARED, STAYING PREPARED

OPERATION
READY
Resources for Educating About Deployment and You

Types of Unit Casualties

- Soldier injured
 - Very Seriously Injured or Ill (VSI)
 - Seriously Injured or Ill (SI)
 - Not seriously injured (NSI)
- Soldier death
- Mass casualty

Casualty Notification Process

- Commander reports incident to Casualty Operations Branch
- Casualty Area Command (CAC) produces casualty report after verifying incident
- Casualty Notification Officer (CNO) is assigned
- Family is notified
 - In person when deceased, DUSTWUN, or MIA
 - By telephone when VSI or SI
 - No notification for NSI

Army's Casualty Response Team

- Casualty Assistance Officer
- Chaplain
- RDC
- MEDFAC
- Public Affairs Officer

Casualty Assistance Officer's Role

Death

- Provides assistance with immediate needs
- Arranges emergency financial assistance, if needed
- Coordinates funeral arrangements
- Aids with personnel-related matters (e.g., benefits and entitlements)

Chaplain's Role

Injury

- Offer pastoral counseling, solace and comfort

Death

- Offer pastoral counseling, solace and comfort
- Provide information about funeral services, memorials and religious observances

U.S. ARMY

GETTING PREPARED, STAYING PREPARED

OPERATION
READY
Resources for Educating About Deployment and You

RDC's Role

Injury

- Provides information and support to family
- Coordinates follow-on care for Soldiers
- Assembles care team, if requested by family
- Handles the media

Death

- Coordinates funeral honors team and memorial service
- Coordinates support needed by family
- Assembles care team, if requested by family
- Handles the media

U.S. ARMY

GETTING PREPARED, STAYING PREPARED

OPERATION
READY
Resources for Educating About Deployment and You

Overview and Role of Care Team

- Support families of injured and deceased Soldiers.
- Is a small group of trained volunteers who provide short-term emotional and logistical support prior to affected family.
- Ask family if they want support from Care Team.
 - If family accepts, battalion RDC assembles a team of 3 to 6 individuals that family would most likely be comfortable with. RDC may appoint a Care Team leader.
- Provide support based upon family needs:
 - Call support
 - Home care assistance
 - Meal support
 - Babysitting or temporary childcare arrangements
 - Assist visiting family members
 - House sitting.
- Report to battalion RDC.

Role of Care Team (continued)

If asked to serve on care team, expectations are:

- Can step into role quickly (i.e., clear calendar, etc.)
- Keep to care team role:
 - Provide comfort and listen to family
 - Honor family's requests
 - Inform RDC and seek guidance when necessary
- Respect the family's privacy:
 - Maintain confidentiality
 - Never discuss family's reactions and plans
- Be nonjudgmental

MEDFAC's Role

- Medical Family Assistance Center (MEDFAC) set up on adhoc basis when high number of wounded, mass casualty, natural disaster, or terrorist attack
- Provides information and support services to families of Soldiers who are patients at military medical facility

PAO's Role

- Responds to media
- Offers information and guidance to family and RDC on dealing with the media

FRG's Role When Unit Casualty

The company level FRG leader's responsibilities are:

- Contact RDC for guidance and direction
- Notify FRG members (i.e., unit families), per RDC's guidance
- Provide input into makeup of Care Team, if asked by RDC
- Determine how FRG can support Care Team assisting a family in their company
- Encourage and provide guidance to FRG members on how to support affected family
- Help unit families cope with the unit's casualty

Notifying and Supporting Unit Families

FRG leader's responsibilities are to:

- Arrange a briefing time and location, including child care, with RDC
- Have key callers contact family members about briefing with scripted message from RDC
- Arrange Chaplain to talk about grieving process, coping with traumatic events, and appropriate ways to talk to affected families
- Arrange PAO to talk about dealing with the media
- Provide guidance on how unit families can support the affected family

Ways FRG Members Can Support Affected Families

- Provide comfort and reassurance.
- Provide logistical support as needed (or after the Care Team leaves).
- Respect family's privacy.
- Be patient while families heal and adjust.

U.S. ARMY

GETTING PREPARED, STAYING PREPARED

OPERATION
READY
Resources for Educating About Deployment and You

Guidance on Dealing with Grieving Families

What to say:

- “I’m sorry.”
- “I care.”
- “I know you are hurting.”
- “Go ahead and cry.”
- “I’ll call you later.”

What not to say:

- “Time heals everything.”
- “It could have been worse.”
- “It was God’s will.”
- “I know how you feel.”
- “You have to be strong.”
- “You have to forget about it.”

Ways FRG can Support Care Team

- Provide meals for care team volunteers
- Prepare and give meals to care team who coordinates meal support for family
- Provide childcare for care team volunteers
- Provide transportation and other support as requested by care team

How FRG Can Prepare

BEFORE deployment, FRG leader's responsibilities are to:

- Talk with unit commander to discuss procedures for casualty situations and use of care teams
- Inform key callers of procedures and provide any necessary training

U.S. ARMY

OPERATION
READY
Resources for Educating About Deployment and You

GETTING PREPARED, STAYING PREPARED

Things to Remember About FRG Role

- Unit commander (or RDC) will provide direction to FRG leader AFTER notification is made.
- FRG leader and some FRG members may be asked to serve on Care Team, but not always.
- FRG's role is to support the unit's families and to offer assistance to Care Team volunteers.